

My Key Priorities (Current)

Raise my children to become respectful, productive people who understand what it means to live a fulfilling life

Continue to build my operational skills at work so I can use them with new groups in the future to make a difference in how they operate

Create a foundation (talents, financial, experiences) that allows me to be free to follow other pursuits later in life that are especially meaningful

Take more accountability for my mistakes while changing my view of struggles from unwanted difficulties to growth opportunities, realizing that this path will be uncomfortable for me

Build "life time" (relax, recharge, reconnect) into my schedule to balance enjoyment and relaxation together with my ongoing obligations

Future Key Priorities

Building enough financial resources to start next chapter in my life

Supporting children through college

Building successful consultancy practice (organizational operations)

Creating an approach to stay mentally & physically healthy

Greater time and energy toward those activities I enjoy most: spending time with family & friends, hiking/exploring at new locations, cooking, reading
